HOW THE GERMANS HAVE FLATTENED THE BETHINCOURT SALIENT.

Attempt to Be Made to Relieve Army Long Beleaguered There.

LONDON, April 10, 12:50 p.m.-Prep arations are well under way for the next British attack in the attempt to relieve the army surrounded by the Turks at Kut-el-Amara, Mesopotamia. This attack is to be made, according to the plans of the British staff, against Sannayyat on the Tigris, a short distance above Felahie, which recently was won from the Turks. The following official statement on these operations was given out today: "Lieut, Gen. Sir Percy Lake (commander of the British forces in Mesopotamia) reports that Lieut. Gen. Sir George Gerring's preparations for the Sannayyat position are well advanced, though floods have curtailed the frontage on which the attack can be delivered. The weathetr is improved and

"On the morning of Wednesday the enemy, who did not know of the evacuation, bombarded the trenches for an hour and then attacked with three brigades, though our two companies had orders to retreat before these superior forces, nevertheless they delayed the enemy by bayonet attacks and bombing and then retreated to our main position. At the same time our weak forces on the right bank of the Tigris, composed of outposts, also withdrew to a wing of our main position. In the course of these attacks we discovered a number of the enemy troops cut off by the floods.

RIGHT KIND OF MILITARY TRAINING HELPS YOUTH

If Thorough and General, Exerts Austrians Said to Be Moving Troops Profound Influence on National Strength and Efficiency.

Experts Point Out It Would Insure the United States Against Any Hostile Invasion.

From the Spokane Spokesman-Review. Switzerland seems to have solved wisely the problem of acquiring for its youth all the benefits of state training and discipline, freed from the evils of military caste and aggressive militarism as they are exemplified in the German army.

German efficiency and highly disciplined co-operation compel our respect, wonder and admiration. It is not a chance product. It has been in the making since Napoleon, more than 100 years ago, overreached himself when, conquered Prussia at his feet, he laid down the seemingly hard condition that the Prussian army should never exceed 5,000 men.

But Prussian sagacity was more than a match for Napoleonic genius. It met the condition by training 75,000 men for a few months, discharging them back into civilian life and calling another 75,000 recruits to the service for another brief period of military training. This simple process Prussia repeated again and again until it had practically a trained reserve of several hundred thousand men. Its nominal army never exceeded the stipulated 75,000, but its real army grew to heroic proportions.
